HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

Rev. Dr. Eliot's Letters on Oregon

(Special Correspondence Missouri Democrat.)

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 10, 1869.

Nearly all our cities have some distinguishing name, as "Garden City," "Queen City," and the like. I think that Portland should be designated "The Home City," for it has, throughout, the aspect of a collection of homesteads. Every house, big or little, has a snug, homelike look, as if some quiet and contented family lived there, and there are no houses "to let." Few lots are less than fifty feet front and more are a hundred, so that there is a fair chance for the flower gardens which are universal. Frame houses, cottage style, prevail, and roses and honeysuckles and a great variety of flowers decorate the porches and yards. The luxuriant growth of all manner of plants astonishes us. Stick anything into the ground and it comes up, forthwith, in blossoms and fruits. Geraniums and other plants which require hot-house culture with us, are large bushes in the front yards, requiring but little protection even in winter, and those who pay much attention to such things can easily make their places of abode like little gardens of Eden. Fruit of various kinds abounds, and the strawberries and cherries are the nicest I ever saw, large in size and delicious in flavor. The cherry trees, some of which are found in almost every yard, call forth our frequent expressions of surprise. The branches are loaded down with fruit, and of so fine quality that one is never tired of eating. I have always thought of cherries as an insignificant fruit, until now, but hereafter am bound to speak of them with respect. In fact, when we remember that we are as far north as Portland, Maine, and find fruits earlier in season, and better in quality than in St. Louis, and flowers in luxuriant growth which belong to the latitude of New Orleans, we stop the attempt to measure the Western by the Eastern World. "The profligacy of nature," as some one said who wished to express how prolific everything is on the Pacific slope, "is beyond all human calculation."

THE FIR FORESTS.

One of the hospitable Portlanders took us a drive up and down the Willamette and Columbia bottoms, in all about fourteen miles, to show us a specimen of the Oregon forests. Such fir trees, hemlock and arbor-vitæ (white cedar) trees we have never before seen. For hundreds of miles the same are found, both in Oregon and Washington territory, varying from a size so small that they look like enormous fishing poles, six inches in diameter and a hundred and twenty-five feet high, up to stately trees, often six or seven feet in diameter and occasionally twelve feet, or thirty eight in circumference, and two hundred and fifty feet high, constituting the most wonderful wooded country in the world. In one place, going off the road to find it, and walking half a mile through what seemed the unexplored heart of the forest, we found a grove covering about fifty acres of the straightest and tallest trees we had ever seen. They stand at an average distance apart of not more than ten feet, so straight that any one of them would make a ship's mast, with not a branch for a hundred feet from the ground, rising to an average of an hundred and fifty feet, and waving their beautiful green tops to every breath of wind, which whispered through them with a soothing sound of the waves on the sea-beach; and as we stretched ourselves on the beds of moss and flowers, and looked upward at the deep blue sky, which the delicately penciled evergreen seemed struggling to reach, we were lost for a moment to all human thoughts and cares. It was "God's first temple," the holy of holies, an inner tabernacle, where the soul's best worship, and, next to active service, the most acceptable, is offered. But while we were gazing and worshiping, awe struck and silent, something exceedingly funny, I forget what, occurred, and the most hearty peal of laughter burst out, by a sudden and not unnatural transition, awakening all the solemn depths, to an unwonted but musical echo. Then, as "time was up," we walked back to our wagon, pausing at every great tree, looking up and around, greedy of beauty, with weary feet, but refreshed and strengthened in spirit richer and better, our whole lives through, for what we had seen.

THE OREGON FARMER.

One object of our ride was to visit a genuine specimen of American Western farm life, whose name I should like to give. I venture to give his history, because by so doing, the example which he has set may become tangible and of practical use. I have seldom witnessed a better proof of the opportunities offered by the West, to every man who prefers working to grumbling.

After having failed in business, in Wisconsin I believe, he came to Oregon, by a four months' overland journey, nine years ago, without means of any kind to start with. He took a farm on shares, six hundred acres, partly improved, with a few head of cattle, and began to make butter for the Portland market. At the end of three years what he had earned went to pay old debts. He then took a new start, and after having soon become satisfied of the profitableness of his work, he purchased the farm on credit, and began to pay for it by installments. With his two boys and a jewel of a wife, he has done all the work, and for several years has made four thousand pounds of butter, being an annual average of two hundred pounds from each cow, which has regularly brought fifty cents per pound.

He has already paid for his farm, which is now tolerably well stocked, and is living in comfortable independence. His two sons are well married and live with him, their wives following in the footsteps of their mother; and a younger daughter, thirteen years old, is coming up in the same life of industry. A happier or more prosperous family you would not wish to see. When we drove up to his gate, or rather bars, for he has had no time for carpenter work, he came out to meet us. With sleeves rolled up to the arm-pit, looking enough like Robert Collyer to be his first cousin, and with the same beaming look of good-natured intelligence, he welcomed us with the dignity of a gentleman, took us directly up to see his cheese making, which was at a point where he could not leave it. One of his daughters, a six weeks' bride, was helping him, and welcomed up with a bright smile, making as pretty and graceful a picture, as she stood at the cheese press, as an artist could devise. When we had looked through the store room and admired the long rows of rich looking cheese, he took us to the house, and introducing us to his wife, left our ladies with her, while he went with us to see his pastures, horses and cattle, and other matters of farm interest. He showed us the bottom land on which the best quality of wild grass grows, costing nothing but the cutting to make all the hay he wants for the winter's use. He pointed out the fields from which he had raised sixty bushels of wheat and one hundred and ten bushels of oats to the acre, which is a large but not unusual crop in Oregon, though thirty five bushels of wheat would be the average yield. His farm is not in what an Eastern man would call good condition, and everything looked hurried and unfinished, but the bountiful soil and climate had made everything. The stock was as sleek and fat as good feed could make them, but they take care of themselves the year through, with some short occasional exceptions, at the most for a month or two, in hard winters.

Now, what he has done any man may do, who has industry and perseverance and a good wife. He needs all three, and the last most, for without that the two other requisites soon give out or are of no avail. But the valley of the Willamette has thousands of acres of as good land and with as good opportunities, waiting for occupants to come and possess, while in the crowded cities there are thousands of half starving, discontented people, young men with young families, who are spending their lives without useful result to themselves or anybody else. Such men as Andrew Jackson Dutor are the founders of the State. Monuments should be erected to them, not to the politicians, and their names should be held in honor everywhere. He is now busily engaged in collecting information about the agricultural resources of Oregon, and promised to send me a full report as soon as it is printed. When he came Westward he had but little knowledge of farming, and has gained practical information, together with scientific, as he has gone along. May success follow him.

MANUFACTURES.

The future prosperity of Portland as a city depends upon its manufacturing interests. As a commercial point it has good and sufficient facilities, and if proper warehouses and elevators for storing and handling grain could be established and the costs of storage and other charges on business reduced to a more reasonable point, there would be a large direct commerce with Europe and "the States." But at the best, Portland can only reach a fair equality with other ports, while the remoteness of her situation is a permanent difficulty to be overcome by energy and public spirit. A home market must be created so as to make her more independent of foreign trade, and at the same time add to its profitableness, for trade will come where people live, and manufactures give support to the people. If it were in my power and province, I would get this subject before the attention of every man in Oregon. Everybody should take hold of it, until the State becomes a perfect hive of industry and every kind of manufacture practicable should be introduced. Then, the wonderful fertility of the soil and the genial climate would produce their legitimate effect but until then, the "sand cranes" of California will continue to laugh at the "web-footed" Oregonians, for their slowness of progress and want of enterprise.

Meanwhile, the city of Portland, with its ten thousand inhabitants, is one of the pleasantest and most attractive places I ever visited. It is an orderly, clean and improving city, with an unusual amount of wealth and intelligence, beautifully situated and remarkable for the health and general prosperity of its people. We met a large number of Missourians there, which accounts for the very friendly feeling towards our city and State, and felt as much at home in two weeks as if it had been as many years.

E

He new Know Nothingism.

When Senator Casserly in one sentence states that people of a certain nationality are the most frugal, industrious and ingenious on the earth, that one of the finest and most substantial buildings in the American city is evidence of what they are capable of in architecture, and the greatest achievement of the age, the Pacific Railroad, is the result of their labor, and in the next sentence appeals to his hearers to stand by a policy which will exclude such men from being added to the population of a country the interior of which is a desert, and not a tenth part of whose western border is yet occupied—he at least lays himself open to the charge of inconsistency and illiberality. His speech may now be applauded here, but it will gain him no credit elsewhere. It is in opposition to the soundest ideas of political economy and the whole movement of this nineteenth century. As it will not stand the test of strict logic or candid criticism, it cannot serve as the foundation of a national repudiation. He admits too much in his premises, and leaves no foundation for his conclusions, which are totally antagonistic to his facts.

Even his hearers should not have felt complimented by his remarks. Frugality, industry and ingenuity are virtues and good qualities in any one, and to say that the Chinamen possessed them more largely than his auditors, was to stamp the Chinamen as their superiors, and worthy to be their models in this respect. It was in fact saying that they were capable of being at once, better, more valuable and more useful citizens than those whom he addressed. And yet the conclusion he reached from such premises was, that his hearers would be degraded by association and competition with such men, and that their interests demanded that they should be protected from such contact, in order that they might continue to be less frugal, less industrious and less ingenious than the Chinese. Therefore he would join with any party that would resist the immigration of the Chinese by all lawful means.

In short, the Senator made a regular old-fashioned Know Nothing speech, with merely the phrase, "hordes of ignorant Chinamen," substituted for "hordes of ignorant Europeans and Irishmen," and Americans, Europeans and Irishmen united in applanding him. If at any time hereafter the Senator, or any of those who are of the same way of thinking are in want of texts and arguments for subsequent discourses of that sort, they have only to turn back to the newspaper files of twenty years ago, to find them carefully and laboriously elaborated, and ready for re-delivery with only the slight change indicated above. For the principles of Know Nothingism and Anti-Coolieism are identical.

Know Nothingism was a failure. Its short sightedness and narrow-mindedness were soon made apparent. The Democratic party rode into power by opposing it and favoring the most liberal laws to encourage the immigration of all sorts of men who possessed the desirable qualities Senator Casserly attributes to the Chinese. The Western States became the "Great West" they now are, by doing all in their power to encourage the immigration of frugal, industrious and ingenious settlers. The same policy will build other railroads here, and hastens the development of our resources.

The fear of fair and honest competition, and class legislation to avoid it, or to exclude any man from a chance to labor at what he is competent to perform, is cowardly and illiberal, and in the long run is sure to destroy any party, and ruin the reputation of any politician who adopts it. With liberal laws, equal justice, and universal education, our republican institutions will safely stand any strain to which it may be subjected, and our white citizens are able to defy any competition they may meet with in whatever field in our own country it may arise. He who doubts this can have little hope for the future, for the tide of events is not likely to be rolled backwards, or any Chinese wall of exclusion ever built around the United States.—Golden Era

HOW TO BREATHE.—The action of respiration should never be carried on through the mouth. "God breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life." The correctness of the inspired writer of old is fully sustained by modern philosophy and physiology. The mischievous habit of carrying on the action of respiration through the mouth instead of through the nose, is the real origin of almost all diseases of the throat and lungs, and even consumption itself. Medical writers tell us that the excessive perspiration to which some are liable in their sleep, and which is so weakening to the system, is mainly the result of sleeping with the mouth open. Whether you walk, sit, read, write, or sleep keep your mouth closed, except when in conversation or necessary vocal reading.

The philosophy is this. The velocity of the blood through the body, and the heat of the body itself, depends mainly upon the quantity of atmospheric air taken into the lungs. Nature measures that quantity by the nostrils, not by the mouth. When the mouth is employed the measure is too great, but just sufficient when the nostrils are used. An excess of air over-heats the body, while its passage through the mouth otherwise injuriously affects the throat. The habits of children, in this respect, should be carefully watched and regulated. Open mouths produce a vacant and unseemly appearance, and may be regarded as very sure precursors of habitual colds and sore throats.

SOMETHING NEW.—The newest thing under the sun is grafting potatoes. The mode of operation is to take two potatoes, one of each variety, the good qualities of which it is wished to combine. With a pocket knife cut all the eyes clearly out of one of them, and substitute in their place the eyes cut out of the other. The eyes to be inserted should be sprouted and cut of the same shape and size in the other potato; they are held in place by hair pins, and bass matting or twine. The fit must be exact and the rind of each must just meet. The grafted potatoes are then to be planted.

The opening of the Suez canal is postponed to the middle of November, "in order," says the Paris Figaro, "to give the canal time to make its toilet."

A company is forming in Europe with subscribers to the stock from various countries, to run a line of steamers from England, France and Egypt, through the Suez canal to China and Japan.

London is to have the pleasure of listening to a Chinese comic singer named Chee Mah. The natural tones and manners of the Chinese being so very comic, what must be those when one sings as funny as he can?

Berlin is to have a Jewish Theological College for the education of Rabbis and Preachers. It is in good hands and will be established with a good system and on a solid foundation. The students will enjoy the same liberties as those of other German universities.

The Missouri Democrat gives Brick Pomeroy some advice, which we fear there is little chance of his acting upon. It recommends him to procure a stout rope and hang himself, to escape the humiliation of living to see the "nigger" his equal politically, and in all other the better qualities of manhood his superior.

Senator Sprague made one of his peculiar speeches at a Masonic celebration in Scituate, recently. He spoke as usual about the Rhode Island Regiments, Governor Burnside, capital, labor, the public debt, &c., and closed with condemning Colfax's recent speech in Providence "in the interest of the Powers" Mr. Sprague condemns.

The Scientific Review says that a project for the formation of a society for the exploration of China is being actively promoted in Belgium, with a view to the introduction in the Celestial Empire of railroads, telegraphs, and the development of its mineral wealth. The project is very favorably viewed by King Leopold, who has travelled in China.

The Overland Route to India.

The demand for rapid transit between England and India is daily growing into an importance that the luxury of the Mont Cenis and Suez Canal communications accelerate rather than abate—these undertakings being regarded as links in the future direct route from the European to the Asiatic Continents. The old voyage to India round the Cape of Good Hope occupied six tedious months; the present overland route can be achieved with regularity in twenty-three days. In a few days from the date of this issue, the Suez Canal will be formally opened. The first break in the direct European Asiatic route is Mont Cenis, the communication through which by a tunnel has been the subject of so much interesting discussion. The official reports affirm that there remain but 2,500 metres of bore to complete this work; that the quartz has been worked through, and the quality of the remaining rock will permit of driving at the rate of 130 metres a month. It is anticipated that the tunnel will be opened to passengers on January 1st. 1871, and before April of the same year locomotives will be running through. The two sections, from west to east of Modane to St. Michel, and from east to west of Susa to Bardonneche, although there are some obstacles to be encountered in the shape of heavy work, can be readily completed. During this period the Mont Cenis summit route will be in daily operation, and the confidence of travelers is daily increasing, as exhibited by its receipts. If the tunnel works are protracted, the mountain route may pay its expenses; but this is problematical. The tear and wear of the line and cost of repair of the engine stock are excessive. Hardly a single journey is accomplished but some re-adjustment of the machinery is necessary.

Mr. Fell, one of the projectors of the mid-rail system of grade railways, has designed four new locomotive, whose construction is entrusted to the eminent French firm of Cail & Co., of Paris. It is proposed to construct engines sufficiently powerful to convey 180 passengers; nearly three times the number transported by one engine. The time occupied in traversing the mountain is 5 1-4 hours by railway, and 10 1-2 hours by road, in the heavy "diligence." If the railway company were to substitute 7 hours for 5 1-4, they might render renumerative that which prodigious wear, tear, and grinding render unprofitable. Arrangements are being made throughout the route from Brindisi to Ostend via Stuttgart, Munich, and Bremen, for sleeping and refreshment cars, with every comfort, and for running the entire length, from Ostend to Brindisi, in thirty-three hours.

Having traversed the Mediterranean in the Peninsular and Oriental steamship company's magnificent steamers, and landed in the recently-formed harbor of Port Said, we will consider the great ship canal, whose opening in a few days is a subject of universal interest. But the practical opening of the canal as a navigable communication can hardly be said to be achieved until the canal is capable of accommodating ships of a draught of twenty-three feet, and until the ports at each terminal are completed to that standard, and permanent means carried out to insure these harbors from silting up. With regard to the danger to the canal arising from sand storms, it is calculated that one of the enormous dredgers employed will be able to withdraw all the sand thus deposited. Of these machines they are at present seventy-eight in operation, at a cost of $1,200,000 per month. Great apprehensions are entertained from the fear of the destruction of the banks by exposure to the heavy wash of the passing steamers. The canal is designed in twenty-one hundred [illegible] not to be [illegible] which is designed to be [illegible] and the work is thrown out in [illegible] on. Of [illegible] act is the proposal of a cut, of [illegible] Atlantic with the Mediterranean, through the valley of the [illegible] via France, capable of [illegible] heavy vessels and large draught. But as 442,000,000 francs will be required, the scheme, like many other French ones, may be regarded as ephemeral.

The Big Bible Editor.

Don Piatt tells a story of a newspaper enterprise carried on by him and one or two other gentlemen of Ohio, several years ago. He says:

"The editors had their eyes in a chronic state of mourning. But they went home and kept up the war, until one day a long-bodied, big-shouldered, double-fisted Democrat, named Jim Moore, stalked into the editorial sanctum, and made a novel proposition of being published as a responsible editor.

"You ain't up to these Whig fellers, you ain't. Just turn 'em over to me and I'm the 'spousible editor, will you?"

This was novel, but pleasing, and Jeems was duly installed in the post he solicited. Not long after an inspired blacksmith, or eloquent parson, addressed the hard-riders. Our notice of this event reads to the effect that "our quiet town was fearfully startled and alarmed by a strange noise that broke out with great virulence on Saturday last near the church. On repairing to the spot we discovered that the unearthly bellowing came from a shaggy long ears that had wandered into our town. The owner of this disagreeable beast would do well to capture and stable him."

The paper was scarcely distributed before the elephantine Jim bounced into the office, followed by a crowd of curious friends. "Where's the editor of this nigger baby's dip?" roared the stumper.

"Don't allow no profane language on these premises," responded the ad interim responsible editor, turning over the exchanges, and scarcely looking at the indignant intruder.

"You be d—d, I want the editor, I say."

"Well, well, we cried Jim, with dignity, as if his precious time was being intruded upon by a fellow beneath his notice. "I'm the 'sponsible editor."

"No you ain't," chorused the crowd, "you're only Jim Moore."

"Don't try to fool me," foamed the orator, "I want the feller that writ that," pointing to the somewhat personal paragraph.

"If you say I'm not the 'sponsible editor," exclaimed Jim, getting up, and it seemed as if he never would get done doing that, "you're a d—d liar! You're a d—d liar, anyhow?"—and in the twinkling of a telegraph the injured one found himself strangled on the curb-stone, with his lately sympathizing friends holding him curiously from behind corners. It is not necessary to say that we were not again disturbed.

HYCEIAN HOME

WATER CURE,

637 California Street,

Opp. St. Mary's Cathedral, bet. Kearny & Dupont Sts.

SAN FRANCISCO

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH

WOULD RESPECTFULLY INFORM HIS FORMER patrons, and all who desire the professional services of a Hygienic Physician, that he has just returned from the East, after an absence of four months during which time he has visited and examined the Water Cures in the Eastern States and the various Hygienic Establishments of New York City, Boston and Philadelphia, and with the new experience he feels more fully prepared than ever to meet all the demands that invalids may justly claim who desire to be cured by the rational form of medication.

In January last DR. SMITH purchased the extensive lot corner of Quincy and California streets, with the buildings thereon, which he has fitted up at great expense, for the accommodation of PATIENTS and BOARDERS, with a greater variety of baths for the cure of DISEASE as well as popular bathing than is to be found in any Water Cure in the United States.

HYGEIAN HOME is the only Regular Water Cure in San Francisco, and by far the most extensive and complete Hygienic Institute on the Pacific Coast.

And we offer to Ministers, Teachers, Lawyers, Miners, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, and all worthy persons, especially those who have tried drugs faithfully without being restored, and who are still desirous of regaining health by this rational system of medicine, the hospitalities of our Hygienic Home and Cure. Young men who have become debilitated or lost their health by excessive toil, exposure or enervating habits, contracted through ignorance of physical laws, may with us find more of the encouragement they need, and means that will restore them to health, than elsewhere in California.

There is not one man in twenty suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, or Diseased Liver, Chills and Fever, Dyspepsia, Drug or Secondary Diseases, Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Impotency or Nervous Debility, Weak or Inflamed Eyes, Bronchical and Catarrhal Affections, Disease of the Heart, Lungs, Kidneys, Constipation, Paralysis, Scrofula, Piles, Inflammation of the Bowels, Chronic and Acute Diarrhea, Stiff Joints, Oak Poisoning, Weak Backs, Hip Disease, Salt Rheum and many other Diseases common to Men and Women, that cannot be permanently cured in from two to six weeks by Water Cure and Hygienic treatment. Not only will they get cured, but they can learn how to keep well when they go to their mountain homes, their mines, their farms, their stores, and all this for one-half what it would cost to take drugs.

Terms $20, by the single week, or $60 for four weeks, Board, Room and Treatment (in all ordinary cases).

N. B.—All suffering from cutaneous diseases are treated in separate baths, which are never used by persons bathing for cleanliness. The greatest care and neatness is observed in this respect. No contagious diseases, such as Small Pox and Ship Fever, treated in the Institution.

We have a separate Medical Department for Ladies, which is attended by a thoroughly competent woman, while the private residence of DR. SMITH, which is connected with the Home, is chiefly devoted to the accommodation of ladies desiring Hygienic medical treatment

We have for the past ten years made the treatment of female diseases a specialty, and have treated a great number of females, both in the Institute and in their private residences in this city, Sacramento and Oakland, who were suffering from Displacements, Prolapsus Uteri, Uterine Hemorrhage, Sterility, Curvatures of the Spine, Inflammations, Congestions, and ALL NERVOUS DISEASES, together with diseases common to all.

The ease and rapidity with which the varied diseases and conditions above mentioned have been overcome, especially in the vicinity of the Bay fully warrant us in declaring that there is not one female in a hundred who is thus afflicted but that can be made well and happy in from three to six weeks by thorough Hydropathic and Hygienic treatment at our Cure. From all who have come to us and been treated, we have yet to learn a single regret from Husband or Wife of the time, means or trouble they expended in HYGIENIC MEDICATION, for they not only get well, but learn how to keep well.

Terms for Ladies, $20 a week, or $100 for six weeks (Board, Room and treatment)

DR. SMITH gives FREE Lectures to his patients every Wednesday evening, and also Lectures before the Ladies' Hygienic Society the first Wednesday in each month. BARLOW J. SMITH, M. D.,

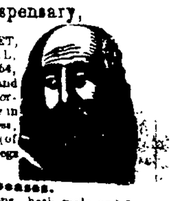
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—Council called to order at quarter past eight, Mayor Goldsmith presiding.

Present.—Councilmen Bills, Cree, Lewis, Moffett and Porter.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from His Honor, Mayor Goldsmith, vetoing an ordinance to establish the grade of Second street, from Lincoln to Harrison, on account of some clerical error therein. The veto was unanimously sustained.

Councilman Breck took his seat.

A communication was read from Dr. Chapman stating that he had visited the ship Onward, and that, in his opinion, the ship had been so cleaned and fumigated, that he deemed it perfectly safe for her to be allowed to come to the dock and be discharged. Communication ordered placed on file.

A communication was read from Ladd & Tilton, Benj Stark and others, asking that the improvement of Stark street between Front and Second streets, be postponed until the further order of the Council, and agreeing that when the present improvement needs repairing, that they will improve the same by laying the Nicolson pavement. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property, with instructions to report by ordinance, in accordance with the prayer of petitioners.

A petition was read from F. Dekum and others praying that Washington street be opened from East Park to "B" street. Referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Miss Barrett was granted the use of Fifth street, corner Washington, for building purposes.

The Committee on Fire and Water, and Chief Engineer, recommended that fire hydrants be erected as follows: At corner Front and Lincoln streets, corner Fourth and Lincoln, corner Fourth and Harrison, corner First and Market. Recommendation adopted.

Three persons were ordered paid $5 each for services as special policemen on the 4th of July.

Reports were read from the City Surveyor in reference to the extension of North Ninth and North Tenth streets, which were referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A communication was read from City Surveyor with reference to street grades in Caruthers' Addition; referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A communication from the Street Commissioner with regard to the condition of certain streets, and also in regard to the condition of the Public Square, was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property, with instructions to make repairs.

The City Marshal reported that he had appointed certain persons special police officers to guard the Chinese passengers from the bark Onward, and keep them from visiting the city, and asking that they be paid. Referred to Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses.

The bill of the Oregon Herald, $55 50, for advertising, was ordered paid.

The bills of Drs. J. A. Chapman, $95, and J. T. Ohlsclin, $25, for visiting the ship Onward and examining the condition of the Chinese passengers, were referred to Committee on Health and Police.

Ordinances were passed making assessments and appropriations for the improvement of Second street from Madison to Harrison. The cost is estimated at $3,200.

An ordinance was made and passed, adopting the report of the City Surveyor in regard to the proposed extension of Eleventh street, which was heretofore made.

Councilman Lewis offered an ordinance establishing grades on Second street and South Second street, from Harrison to Lincoln. Read and passed. This was the same as that vetoed by the Mayor, with proper corrections.

Councilman Lewis offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the attention of the committee on accounts and current expenses is respectfully called to the sections 64 and 77 of the amendment of the city charter, approved Oct. 28, 1868, and that they be requested to report by ordinance, making provisions for the pay of the City Marshal and Recorder, so as to conform to the requirements of said amendment.

The City Surveyor was ordered to make a survey from the east line of the Mary Lownsdale claim to the south side of B street.

The Mayor stated that Hon. W. H. Seward had been invited to visit Portland, and although he had not received a direct response, the invitation would probably be accepted, and Councilmen Breck, Lewis and Cree were appointed a committee to make arrangements for his reception.

Adjourned.

GLEN OAK ORPHANS' HOME.—The ladies connected with the ... nt of the "Orphans' Home," located at ... send us the following communication which was first published in the Unionist of July 9th, with a request for its appearance in the OREGONIAN. We cheerfully ... ly, from personal acquaintance with a number of the managers, we know them to be ladies of earnest purpose philanthropists in the best sense of the word, who are thoroughly devoted to the work of providing a home for the homeless little ones of the State. They ... to the cheerful and liberal co-operation of all the people of Oregon:

SALEM, July 8th, 1869

Thinking your readers might like to know what has been done, and what is proposed to be done by the "Children's Aid Society," for the benefit of Glen Oak Orphans' Home, at present, we have concluded by your kind permission, to make a brief statement.

The fact of the noble donation by Mrs. L. J. Parrish, of ten acres of land as a site upon which to erect a Home for the ... is already known. This benevolent act was the inception of the enterprise. The society was organized and has endeavored faithfully, thus far, to carry out the wise and beneficent design at first contemplated.

Through the united efforts of the society, and generous sympathy of its friends, a comfortable and commodious building has been erected amid the oaks upon the beautiful grounds, and the whole surrounded by a plain, substantial fence—all of which, by cautious and economical management, is thus far unencumbered by debt.

Yet the society find that the work has but a beginning. The ... has to be furnished; the ground put in proper order for cultivation and beautifying; a Matron to be employed and paid; children to be supported, &c. Several applications have already been made for homeless ones, and one has been received, notwithstanding the low state of funds.

It is to be hoped, however, by redoubled exertions, that all difficulties will be overcome, and that the society will very soon, be able to meet every worthy demand.

To further these plans it is, therefore, thought advisable to make a special effort during the coming State Fair, when there will be brought together from every quarter of our State, those whom, we trust, will be ready and willing to lend a helping hand to a cause in which all should feel deeply interested.

The society, therefore, propose to erect a suitable building upon the State Fair grounds immediately, and prepare themselves to open a first class "Restaurant," by which, together with the sale of useful and fancy articles, they hope to raise a fund that will do much toward carrying forward this good work. And they would respectfully and earnestly solicit every one to join them in this needful enterprise. Both young and old, farmers, mechanics, and citizens generally, in all portions of the State, can render assistance by each bringing with them and contributing but a small portion of produce from their farms, wares from stores or shops, and handy-work from others. All will be most acceptable, and thankfully received; while the givers will, at the same time, be ... with the sweet assurance, "That it is more blessed to give than to receive."

We trust that these plans may meet the full approval of all, and that all the papers throughout the State will have the kindness to copy the above, and receive the special thanks of the Corresponding Committee.

THE CHICAGO PARTY.—The following named gentlemen comprise the Chicago party proper, who have been invited to this city, but they are accompanied by others who joined them at way stations, adding about ten more to the list: Lyman Trumbull, United States Senator of Illinois; Gen. R. G. Ogelsby, ex-Governor of Illinois; N. B Judd, member of Congress, Chicago District, Illinois; Isaac N. Arnold, late member of Congress from the same district; Rev. Clinton Locke, D. D., Rector of Green Church, Chicago; C. W Mead, of Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company; Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune; J. M. Richards, President of the Chicago Board of Trade; John L. Hancock, of Cragin & Co. and Chicago Chamber of Commerce; O. S. Hough, of Jones, Hough & Co.; John V. Farwell, of John V. Farwell & Co.; James H. Bowen, President of the National Bank; F. D. Gray, of Gray, Phelps & Co.; W. T. Allen, of Dole, Allen & Co.; Alfred Cowles, of the Chicago Tribune; George M. Kimbark, of Hall, Kimbark & Co.; E. W. Blatchford; George S. Bowen, of Bowen, Winslow & Whitman; C. G. Hammond, late Superintendent of C. B. Q. R. R. Co.; Orrington Lunt, Vice President of C. and G. U. R. R. Co.; T. Dent; C. G. Wicker, representing the Common Council of Chicago; B. F. Haddock, Sheridan Watt, E. V Robbins, of E. V. Robbins & Co., John A. Ellison, of W. A Butters & Co.; C. Tobey, J. R. Nichols, of Nichols & Munn, O. L. Grant, of Grant & McLean (brother of President Grant); K. F. Hollister, of Hollister & Phelps, F. G. Keith, of Keith Brothers, E. G Squires, of Clement Otisman & Co.; Charles Gossage, of Ross & Gossage; Joseph Stockton, of Stockton & Co., D W Whittle, H N. Moulton and M. B. Lindsay.

NORTH PACIFIC RAILROAD.—We have seen a copy of the Burlington (Iowa) Free Press, in which is an article concerning the exploring parties sent out by the North Pacific Railroad Co., one of which was recently here. The Press states that another party was sent to Lake Superior to begin a reconnoissance of the eastern end of the route at about the same time the western party began at Puget Sound. The Lake Superior party was instructed to locate the eastern terminus, make arrangements for the final survey and the letting of a contract to construct the first section, and then to proceed with the reconnoissance westward till the Puget Sound party should be met on the plains. The Press expressed emphatically its full confidence that the work would be commenced at once, and that the North Pacific would be, as soon as completed, the most important line of communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, in existence.

HONG KONG NEWSPAPERS.—It may not be generally known that Hong Kong supports several newspapers printed almost wholly in the English language. Mr. Hobson, Supercargo per bark Onward, left in our office yesterday a copy each of the Hong Kong Daily Press and the China Mail, each printed daily at Hong Kong; the first at $2 50 per month and the latter at $2 50 per month. The Press is a twenty-eight column paper with nine columns of reading matter. Its size is about that of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, but the type is nearly all large, so that the amount of matter is something less than the average in the DAILY OREGONIAN. The Mail is much smaller, being only a twenty-four column paper with only six columns of reading matter. Mr. Hobson says there are about two hundred and fifty Americans at Hong Kong, mostly all engaged in mercantile business. There are, of course, much greater numbers of Europeans. The advertisements of these merchants contribute a handsome support to the news papers.

FROM VANCOUVER.—Capt. Adams, of the Reporter, who had been sick for some days, came over on the Couch yesterday morning, having barely recovered sufficiently to be out.

From him, we learn that the condition of Mr A. J. Remington, who was accidentally shot a few days since, was worse yesterday morning, having had a bad bleeding turn during Tuesday night. His recovery is considered doubtful.

Another party has started out to prospect in the new mines on Lewis river. A portion of the original party lately came in to Vancouver, but have again gone back to the mines. It is the general belief that the mines will pay well for working, though but little information can be gained from those who have been there.

DROUTH ON THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—The Honolulu Commercial Advertiser of June 19th, says: "The weather the past few days has been very oppressive, and from the various islands we receive reports that every kind of growing crop is suffering from the scorching heat, notwithstanding the few showers with which some sections have been favored. Usually very little rain falls during the summer months, and should this be the case this summer, not only will growing crops suffer, but large numbers of cattle, horses and sheep will be lost."

PASSENGERS FOR CALIFORNIA.—The steamship Moses Taylor sailed for San Francisco at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The following is her list of passengers:—Mrs J K Mears, Wm Snyder, Mrs N S Schuyler and child, M S Hellman, T Dittenhefer, M L Ross, C H Davis, O N Graves, L H Ward, Jos H Taylor, W H Taylor, Miss L Vaughn, Miss Cardinell, J Jones, Mrs Virginia Washam, H D Green, family and 2 servants, I H Hougue, H Gilliman, Wm Hobson, T Weidness, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, and 14 in the steerage.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Benj. Todd is expected up from Astoria in a day or two. He came a passenger by the Moses Taylor, but stopped at Astoria to visit his friends there. He is expected to remain in Oregon some months.

Col Dennison and wife left by the Moses Taylor last evening for Astoria. Mrs. Dennison's health is delicate, and they go to the seaside for her benefit.

FROM TILLAMOOK.—The schooner J. C. Champion arrived yesterday morning from Tillamook, with a cargo of dairy produce, skins, dry hides, furs, etc. She also brought some packages of household goods belonging to Rev. Mr Howard, who is about removing from Tillamook. The Champion reports everything going on prosperously as usual at Tillamook bay and the settlement above.

SO?—The Commercial says: "A couple of young gentlemen paid a visit to the White House yesterday evening on velocipedes. On returning, they made the distance from the house to the last toll gate in forty-five minutes and some odd seconds, or about one mile in nine minutes." Guess there is a large amount of romancing in that, in regard to time.

STEAMBOATING ON THE TUALITIN.—The P. T Company's steamer Onward has been for some time laid up, and has been undergoing some needed repairs. There is water enough, by putting water slashes on the dam below, to run her as far as Hillsboro, and the company is preparing to start her as soon as the new crop of grain shall begin to offer for market.

FIRE AT CORVALLIS.—News was received yesterday at this city, of a fire at Corvallis at two o'clock yesterday morning. The particulars are not definitely sent, but it is reported that a number of houses were destroyed. The insurance companies which have agents at this city, are losers to some extent, though how much cannot yet be estimated.

A PAMPHLET ON OREGON.—The State Agricultural Society has published a pamphlet containing the articles written upon Oregon by A. J. Dufur, of this county. It contains one hundred and twenty-eight pages of statistics and information. Five thousand copies have been printed for circulation at the East.

THE CIRCUS AGAIN.—The Great Eastern and Royal European Circus is on the way to this city again, from Eastern Oregon. Performances will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings, and a matinee Saturday afternoon. Prizes are offered for climbing a smooth pole, and for the fastest velocipeding.

TO BE LAID UP FOR REPAIRS.—The steamer Alert will be laid up, probably about Friday or Saturday, for repairs. She will be out of service for ten days or two weeks. Meantime, the Senator will take her place, and will leave and arrive at Portland at the Alert's usual hours.

FOR THE BOHEMIA MINES.—Messrs. R. J. Ladd and Joseph Knott, of this city, have left for the Bohemia Mines, for the purpose of finding and working claims.

THE ONWARD.—This vessel will finish unloading to-day or to-morrow. She is to load with produce and lumber for her return voyage.

TO SAIL.—The steamship Geo. S. Wright will sail for Puget Sound and Victoria at noon to-morrow.

EVERY DAY, at No. 107 Front street, one door above McCormick's, you can see KANE'S CONDENSED SOAP wash without rubbing.

G. F. TRAIN preaches but does not always practice—for he patronized the Oregon Dispensary and used our medicines to cure his hands that caught those large Salmon. Since his lectures on DOCTORS and DRUG STORES, we have had an unprecedented run for our numerous remedies, toilet articles, etc., etc. It has been said that Mr. Train was induced by us to deliver that lecture, but we assure our numerous patrons that we do not use such means to obtain patronage. We do the largest trade because our Druggists are the most competent and our medicines and goods are fresh, pure and cheap.

LORYEA & KALLENBERG,
73 First Street.

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY is now offered to buy dry goods very low at the store of KOHN & FISHEL, who positively will sell all their dry goods at cost, being determined to close that branch of business. A call at their store, No. 91, Front street, will save a purchaser at least twenty per cent.

OPENED TO THE PUBLIC ON A. M. SEPT 14, 1869

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS ANNOUNCE THAT the Seventh Industrial Exhibition will open as above, in the spacious Exhibition Building erected on Union Square, in the City of San Francisco, and no pains will be spared to make it complete in all its details.

The Building is weather-proof, well ventilated, and lighted at night by 1,500 gas jets, in provided with tables for exhibitors' use, and has a line of shafting 200 feet long, provided with necessary pulleys and ample steam power to exhibit working machinery, and covers an area of 60,000 feet.

The lines of telegraph wires will be connected in the building, where, also, will be the Postoffice and Express Companies' boxes. A fine Band will discourse music every evening and afternoon, and the visitor will find ample provision for his comfort in every particular.

The various Hotels are making extensive preparations to accommodate visitors at moderate rates during the Exhibition season, and the Board of Managers will, through an agent, extend all information to strangers seeking accommodations during their stay in this city at that period.

There is no charge to exhibitors (except ticket of admission) and exhibitors are notified that applications for space must be received before August 28, or space can not be definitely assigned. Articles intended for exhibition must be in the building by Saturday, Sept 18, and no article can enter for competition unless in position by that time.

Rules and Regulations, Circulars and Blanks will be forwarded on application at the rooms of the Mechanics' Institute, 29 Post street, San Francisco, or by addressing J. H. GILLMORE, Corresponding Secretary, same address.

Articles from the country must be marked distinctly, "For the Seventh Industrial Exhibition, San Francisco, California. Care of J. H. Gilmore, Corresponding Secretary." jy19d1m2p

ENDORSEMENTS.

OLYMPIA, W. T., March 27, 1869.

C. A. WHITE, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Having examined your original map, embracing that portion of Washington Territory west of the Cascade Range, I desire to add my testimony to its value. Having been engaged for a number of years in the surveys from Cape Flattery to the Head of Puget Sound, I have examined this portion of your map more critically than others, and I take pleasure in vouching for its general correctness.

This map will fill a want that has long been felt, not only among the residents of this Territory, but others, who are desirous of obtaining information of this portion of the "Far West," and I trust that we shall soon see it in a form suitable for general distribution.

JAS. S. LAWSON,
Asst. U. S. C. S.

We endorse the annexed opinion of Jas. S. Lawson, Esq., and will add that Mr. Chas. A. White is a practical Surveyor, and has had access to the township maps in the two Land Offices in this Territory, as also the Coast Survey charts; and we can vouch for his map of Washington Territory, west of the Cascade Range of Mountains, as being correct, and the only good map of the same territory that has been made.

NOTICE.

WE TAKE PLEASURE IN CALLING the attention of dealers to a valuable Patented Improvement in Electro Plating Spoons and Forks, by which those parts most exposed to wear receive an EXTRA COAT OF SILVER!

THREE TIMES THE USUAL THICKNESS.

Viz: on the back of the handle, back of the bowl and points of bowls, back of the handle and back and points of three prongs, as illustrated in cut.

This mode of Electro Plating greatly supercedes the old way of plating. The great advantage will be readily seen, as spoons and forks always wear through on these exposed points, while the plate is yet good on other parts of the article. This new process will add THREE TIMES TO THE DURABILITY of goods so plated.

Knives, forks and spoons stamped "1847 ROGERS BROTHERS A1 XII," are Electro Plated by the new Patented Process.

We have now been before the public since 1852, manufacturing ELECTRO-PLATED GOODS, which have stood the most severe tests of wear in hotels, steamers and private families, and have given universal satisfaction, supplying, as it does, all of the advantages of silver in durability and beauty. We wish to call particular attention to the hardness and firmness of our White Metal, which exceeds anything of the kind made in this country. All goods plated on this metal bear our trade mark, and the plating is warranted THREE TIMES THE USUAL THICKNESS.

E Sandford, Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts, in his Report for 1868, speaking of Dividends in Life Insurance Companies, says: "The sooner such guarantees cease to be made, and such expectations created, the sooner Life Insurance will come to rest on its true motive, and men insure their lives for security, and not for dividends. The best and most popular companies will there be those that promise only equity, and render all that they promise, and furnish the best security, with the most upright and judicious management."

"By the Stock plan, the full cash effect of the Premium is immediately secured to the Insured, the Company taking ALL the risk. By the Mutual plan, the full value in Insurance of the Premium paid, is not secured to the Policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself."

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 22, 1869.

The Capital City.

The question of removing the national capital is engaging the attention of many leading journals. A surprising feature of the discussion is that most of the cities which have been named as candidates for the capital are, if we may accept as true the statements of their representative journals) quite indifferent about the honor, and are nominating each other for it with a courtesy which is really charming. If we may believe the Tribune of Chicago, that city does not want the national capital, but desires St. Louis to have it. In a long article the Tribune points out the advantages which St. Louis possesses and her superior attractions as the place for the capital of the nation, from which we quote.

She (St. Louis) is, and will always remain a great commercial city, and in addition will ere long become a leading manufacturing center. Official sojourners and visitors there would not be regarded as the mere prey of the resident population, as they always must be in a small town. Society would be toned and its higher standard maintained by the presence of a large and influential class of men and women not connected with the Government nor dependent on the shifting wind of public favor for their daily bread. The location is central as to the area and population, unsurpassed in beauty of scenery or attractions of climate, and, finally, the immediate site for the location of the public edifices afforded by the commanding plateau around the pleasant city of St. Louis, would be fully equal to that of Washington, and unsurpassed at any other point in the country. Instead of the Potomac, the capital would overlook the Mississippi, so appropriately expressive of the broader tide, the deeper flow, the longer current, and the resistless force our national development has attained since that early day when the tabernacle of the Government was set up amid the solitudes of the Potomac.

This panegyric upon St. Louis, coming from Chicago, is really quite extraordinary. Chicago not only does not want the capital, but is extremely anxious for her great rival, St. Louis, to have it. Perhaps Chicago's generosity grows out of an idea that there is little probability that the capital will be removed.

But other cities are quite as disinterested as Chicago. Cincinnati, if we may credit the Commercial, does not covet the national distinction which she would secure with the national capital, but thinks New York is the place to which the capital should be removed. And, not to be outdone in generosity, the New York Times takes up the discussion, and in a long article sounds the praises of Cincinnati and votes for the "Queen City of the West" against all competitors, as the place which ought to be the capital city of the nation. These amenities are really beautiful to witness. The cities really appear to be converted to the principles of the golden rule and all the golden truths of the beatitudes. What else are we to conclude when cities which have heretofore been engaged in a fierce and uncompromising rivalry suddenly change their defiant tones for the of modesty and humility, eulogize each other's superiority and point out the unequaled advantages which each offers as the political capital of the Republic?

It is probable enough that the capital will be removed from Washington ere many years shall have elapsed; and in that case St. Louis is a point which will most favorably be considered. As place to be chosen for the capital, if the capital shall ever be removed from the city which Washington founded, St. Louis certainly merits all that is said of her in the encomium of the Chicago Tribune.

In General.

We notice in the report of the Department of Agriculture for June two or three brief articles from Oregon giving information relative to the productions of our State. This a very good method of advertising Oregon, and such articles should be continued.

We have been looking with no little interest to find in the Herald some dispatches from "Victoria, W. T.," but have seen none. Can it be possible that our neighbor has concluded after all to allow British sovereignty to continue over Vancouver's Island?

The Polk County Times continues its warfare on Beriah of the Salem Press. The Times says it never saw a man who was always boasting of his Democracy, like B. B. is, that had any Democracy at all. In another place it says: "B. B. has much to say of the 'odors of bad whisky;' but if there is any member of the party who can 'punish' more of it than himself, he must indeed be a bad case." The brethren are exceedingly complimentary. If this warfare goes on we are likely to get a pretty good picture of "Democracy," drawn by very competent artists.

A fussy little evening publication continues to insinuate that the OREGONIAN has been unfriendly to the west side railroad. The only reason for such an insinuation is that the OREGONIAN refused to join that malignant little sheet and its masters in an attempt to drive Mr. Holladay out of the State. We have at all times been equally desirous to see both the roads built; and while we wished to see the west side go on we saw no reason or sense in opposing a man who came here proposing to build a road on the east side and to expend his own money among us for so good a purpose.

Free trade is one of the ideas which modern Democracy got from the slave-holders. Curiously enough that party claims the support of Irishmen. A Philadelphia Committee puts the question thus: "Will you, Irishmen, go for free trade when its sure effects will be, at the expense of American industry, to enrich the manufacturers of England, and so from this country to strengthen the British despotism over Ireland?" Free trade is England's bread and meat. Cannot Irishmen know when to strike? It is apparent that great changes are taking place among them. Since the nomination of Gen. Grant there has been a constantly increasing defection of Irishmen from the Democratic organization to the Republican party.

The Missouri Republican, the leading Democratic paper of "the West" has an article in its issue of the 3d inst. on Chinese immigration, which concludes as follows: "We are in favor of extending to John Chinaman a hearty welcome, and giving him fair play in the race of life. Our little thirty millions of population can afford to receive accessions from his five hundred millions, and the incalculable agricultural and mineral resources of our domain are not likely to be exhausted by drains from this source. Any policy which looks in an opposite direction, and whose avowed purpose it is to check and drive back emigration from China, is contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and will not be sustained by the moral sentiment of a free and enlightened people."

We were somewhat startled yesterday morning on reading in the Herald a screaming "leader" against Southern reconstruction, military Governors, Union Leagues, etc. The Herald evidently supposes that the problem of reconstruction is not yet settled, as it calls on the Democracy to give the "final stroke," which will do away with the whole thing. Now we want to ask if this is what our neighbor calls "live journalism?" Isn't it "fogyism" of the most ancient kind? A huge majority of the people feel and know that the problems of reconstruction are definitely settled. Right over this leader in the Herald we see the new motto of that paper, Progress, which on this occasion seems somewhat out of place. It looks like "progress backwards" to see a newspaper at this day fighting against "Radical reconstruction."

The New York Times shows that the opening of Suez will be the opening of the Mediterranean and the Black sea, and the restoration of that commercial activity which has died away on their shores for more than three centuries. Russia, Austria and other countries touching those seas will wake to new life; and Prussia has been building a grand harbor on the shore of Hanover or Oldenburg, in order to "sail in" along with all the rest. This great change will tell against the commercial interests of England, who stands handmost in the race as to locality, and very probably that emigration of her skilled labor which has just commenced, in a noticeable way, will be continued. The Suez Canal will have a more general effect than our overland railway. Indeed, nothing but the opening of a Panama Canal could equal it in any way.

THE WEST.

A Real Estate Gazette is to be issued at Walla Walla.

A teachers' convention will be held at Walla Walla on the 18th August.

It is mentioned as an instance of the agricultural thrift of Boise valley that twice as many agricultural implements have been sold for use there as in any former year.

At a banquet in Sacramento last Thursday, the Superintendent of the Central Pacific declared that that Company was ready to carry freight mile for mile and ton for ton at as low rates as the Union Pacific dared to go.

A man named Martin, keeping the six mile house on the Elko and Hamilton road, says the White Pine News, was assassinated on the evening of the 8th inst., in front of his own door, in the presence of his wife and a large family of children, by two or three unknown persons, who fled in the darkness and have not been taken.

The Inland Empire of July 10th, says: We learned yesterday the particulars of the fearful death of W. W. Knapp on the 27th of June last, at Silver Canyon, Pahranagat District. The deceased, while cooking his breakfast, it is supposed had a fit and fell forward into the fire. Living alone, it was sometime before he was discovered, and when found, his face, hands and breast were literally burned to a crisp. We understand that Mr. Knapp was a native of Kalamazoo, Michigan, in the neighborhood of which place he has a brother still living.

The Marysville (Cal.) Appeal of the 6th, says: The Democrats made a great howl over the removal of W. Neely Johnson from the Sacramento Land Office. 'It was a great outrage' they said, 'because he is blind.' Mark, now, the Democratic sympathy for the blind man. On Wednesday the Democrats held a convention for Police Judge and Mr. Johnson was a candidate. Did he get the nomination? Not much. Johnson received fourteen votes, and a big, stout, healthy fellow, with two good eyes, got the nomination.

NEVADA.

ELKO, July 21.—There were twenty-nine prisoners brought to this place last night for trial. The prisoners are section men from Lucien, on the Central Pacific Railroad. From Mr. Marsh, agent at that place, we learn the following particulars: On Sunday last, while Mr. Marsh was absent from his office temporarily, two of the section men stole a keg of wine out of the office, and after drinking it dry, again returned to the office with the avowed intention of helping themselves to what they wanted, and also of hanging Mr. Marsh if he attempted to interfere. Mr. Marsh having received instructions to not attempt resistance, allowed the mob to help themselves to what they wanted. After drinking what whisky they wanted, they came to the conclusion to hang Marsh anyway. In the meantime, a passenger train bound West, had arrived, and he secreted himself in the express car. The mob hunted for him through the train, armed with hatchets and clubs, cutting and breaking seats and frightening the passengers. One of them boarded the engine, and with hatchet raised, threatened, if the engineer (Tiff) moved the train before Marsh was found, with death. The conductor drew a six-shooter, and after some little delay, shot him off the engine and cleared the train of the mob. Marsh came to town and returned to Lucien on Monday. On Tuesday morning Mr. Campbell, Superintendent, sent an armed force of thirty men and captured all but one. They will be tried to-morrow. Some of the prisoners are parties that were concerned in the Bear river riot on the North Pacific Railroad last winter. They are most all of that class of men known as the "Union Pacific 'roughs.'"

VIRGINIA, July 21.—The Pacific Union Express Co. have reduced their freight tariff between this city and San Francisco to 3c for fast and 2@2½c for slow freights.

The Water Company have forbidden the engine companies the use of the water for exercising, the supply being barely sufficient for the necessity of the city.

The fire at the Chollar Potosi new works this morning made a clean sweep of everything, leaving nothing but the iron works. A large amount of timber wood went with the buildings. The fire originated from some defect in the Chollar, where it passed through the roof and spread with such rapidity that the building was a mass of flames before the workmen reached it, and nothing could be done to get the workmen out of the shaft. A messenger was immediately sent the Hale & Norcross shaft to go through to the Chollar shaft, with orders to the men there to come to the surface through the latter works. To prevent any panic they were not informed of the fire, and were first made aware of it when safely above ground. They lost their clothing, which it is the custom to deposit in the house before descending to the shaft. The loss is estimated as high as $20,000 to $25,000, but is partially covered by insurance.

AGE OF THE EARTH.—Agassiz says that among the astonishing discoveries of modern science, is that of the immense periods that have passed in the gradual formation of the earth. So vast were the cycles of time preceding even the appearance of man on the surface of our globe, that our period seems as yesterday when compared with the epochs that have gone before it. Had we only the evidence of the deposit of rocks heaped upon each other in regular strata by the slow accumulation of materials, they alone would convince us of the long and slow maturing of God's works on earth; but when we add to these the successive populations of whose lives this world has been the theater, and whose remains are hidden in the rocks into which the mud or sand, or soil of whatever kind, on which they live, had hardened in the course of time or enormous chains of mountains whose upheaval divided these periods of accumulations by great convulsions—or the changes of different nature in the configuration of our globe, as the sinking of lands beneath the ocean, or the gradual rising of continents and islands above—or the slow growths of coral reefs, whose wonderful seawalks raised by the ocean architects, whose own bodies furnish both the building stones and the cement that binds them together, and who have worked so busily during the long centuries that there are extensive countries, mountain chains, islands and long lines of coast, consisting solely of their remains or the countless forests that have grown up, flourished and decayed, to fill the store-houses of coal that feed the fires of the human race—if we consider all these records of the past, the intellect fails to grasp the chronology of which our experience furnishes no data, and time that lies behind us seems as much an eternity to our conception as the future that stretches indefinitely before us.

Gen. Magruder meets with small success in his South western lecturing tour. What he has to say is neither new, able nor patriotic.

CHARTERED FOR CHINA.—The bark Hector Bear has been chartered by the Chinese firms of Yong Duck and Wa Kee, for $20,000, to make a round trip to Hong Kong and back, to start in November.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO JULY 20.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Specials say that the formal consent of the Government to working the French cable has not yet been given, some papers from the agent of the cable company having been received at the State Department, but there is no doubt that negotiations have been satisfactorily concluded. The new line is to be immediately put to work. It is understood that the first dispatches will be from the Emperor to the President and the President's reply. It is presumed that the House will, early in the session, take favorable action on the Senate bill.

Ex-Senator Wade visited Secretary Cox and Boutwell yesterday and had a long interview with each in regard to the condition of the Pacific roads. The substance of his conversation is that both companies have worked earnestly in pushing the roads over the continent, and are still working with undaunted energy to bring the roads to the best possible condition. He recommends the immediate issue of the bonds still due to the Union Pacific to enable the company to keep a force at work the remainder of the season.

Governor Clayton, of Arkansas, is visiting the North. He gives a favorable account of political affairs in that State. There is very little disorder now in any part of the State. The crops are everywhere good, and there is a more cheerful feeling in regard to all affairs than has existed since the war.

A delegation of radical Republicans from Virginia, in Washington, say they will endeavor to show Congress next winter that Walker was elected by fraud. There are also several Republicans from Mississippi who declare that the Dent movement is mostly the work of the Democratic party, and it will be a bad thing if it succeeds. General Ames, military Governor of Mississippi, concurs in this.

The grand jury investigating late negro election riots, have already found indictments against eight or ten persons.

The arguments in the Yerger court martial case, commenced yesterday. Judge Advocate Barr will probably start on Thursday to bring the finding to Washington, while Gen. Ames remains in Washington to sign it.

CHICAGO, July 20.—The Times' Washington special says orders have been issued from the War Department to superintendents of the recruiting service in New York city, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and Cincinnati, to forward all recruits west for service on the frontier.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Herald says that Col. Whittlesey and a number of Virginia radicals in Washington, are getting up documents to prove that the election in Virginia was carried by fraud. Affidavits are being prepared to be placed before the Reconstruction Committee at the meeting of Congress. It is hoped thus to have an investigation held and thus delay the admission of the State.

The conservative negroes in Washington are raising a subscription to defray the expenses of indicting the radical negroes for mobbing them and inciting to riot at the recent election in that city.

Ben. Wade applauds Secretary Boutwell's policy. He is sore over the result of the Virginia election. He thinks we ought to enter a wedge for the separation of Cuba from Spanish rule. He says he will probably stump Ohio for Gov. Hays.

New York News.

CHICAGO, July 20.—New York specials say orders have been received for the release of the filibusters in Fort Lafayette on their own recognition.

A banquet will be tendered to Sir Joseph Anderson, commander of the Great Eastern, on his arrival in New York. He will visit Washington and return to Europe in August.

Agents of the Spanish Government are purchasing arms and ammunition for immediate shipment to Havana.

A portion of the rebel archives, removed from Richmond at the time of Lee's retreat and since concealed in North Carolina, have been brought to New York and placed in the hands of two Confederate officers, who are preparing them for publication.

Free Trade Horrible Murder.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Henry D. Lloyd, agent of the Seventh New York Free Trade League, is making a tour of Ohio to bring the subject of revenue reform before the people and then organize a State League, with headquarters at Cincinnati. These leagues are not a political organizations, but are composed of friends of revenue reform of all parties, and are organized for the purpose of discussing these subjects and distributing documents, &c.

A special from Alton says another horrible murder occurred on Sunday night. A ruffian, John Cregan, shot dead the wife of Gottlieb Ortel. Cregan had been working for Ortel, but was discharged last week and came to Ortel's house intoxicated and killed Mrs. Ortel. Cregan escaped, but it is reported that he shot himself.

The Tribune publishes a partial list of buildings in process of erection in Chicago the present season. It is estimated that 1,500 will be built, of the value of $10,000,000.

South America.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Rio dates to June 23d state that a correspondence of some interest has been going on between Lopez and the Allies, which formed a demand of the Allies to prohibit the use of the Paraguayan flag by native battalions. The allied army had advanced to Peeraju, about seven miles from Lopez's headquarters.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, July 19.—The first general meeting of the Woman's Franchise Society was held here yesterday. Among the notables present was John Stuart Mill, Lord Houghton, James Stanford, Henry Fawcett, Rev. Chas. Kingsley and Louis Blain; also many ladies. Addresses were delivered and resolutions unanimously adopted in favor of female suffrage.

PARIS, July 19.—Marshal Vaillant is reappointed Minister of the Imperial Household. The press of the city regard the new Cabinet as one of transition only.

DUBLIN, July 19.—Warburton, High Sheriff of Queen's county, while on his way to attend the assizes, was fired at from the roadside and severely wounded. The assassin had not been discovered.

LONDON, July 19.—Advices from Rio to June 13, states that the revolution in Uruguay was in progressing. The President had returned to Montevideo without hazarding an engagement with the insurgents.

In the House of Lords the University Test Bill came up. Earl Calnarvon moved the previous question on the ground of the lateness of the session and insufficiency of time for the consideration of the bill. On a division of the House the bill was thrown out. In the House of Commons Otway, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, said the Government was aware that negotiations had passed between Bavaria and Austria with respect to the Ecumenical Council, but having received no official information it could submit no papers on the subject.

In reply to the question as to how the Irish Church surplus fund was to be locally supplied Gladstone said the question was rather premature. He could not presume that the bill would pass. Moreover the financial parts of the measure were very complex and he could not say how far portions of the surplus would bear a local character, but he assured the House that the Government was desirous of distributing the fund equally over Ireland.
